Orange County Schools selects MyGoLocker.com for the 2008-2009 “Outstanding Partner in Education” award.

Today’s top stories are about the impact of budget cuts in the schools and finding creative community solutions to help our students and schools. Enter, MyGoLocker.com, a community centered website launched in Central Florida last month.

As a solution to the effects of budget cuts in education, MyGoLocker.com has created the MySchoolWish program, currently available to all Orange County District Schools. Through MyGoLocker.com, schools are able to create school wish lists of tangible items to help support their student’s activities, classes and programs. MyGoLocker.com posts these lists in an easy to navigate format, where local businesses, families and people of all ages can make a difference by granting this school wishes through an easy automated system.

For local businesses, not only does MyGoLocker.com offer a unique and innovative platform in which to uniquely showcase a business, but these businesses are also promoted and rewarded for their commitment to giving back to the community and schools.

Visitors to MyGoLocker.com can easily navigate to find local schools and business by category and know that supporting local businesses displayed on MyGoLocker.com is good for our schools and good for business.

Visit MyGoLocker.com to learn more about granting School Wishes for our schools, supporting local businesses and how to get.

MyGoLocker.com named Official Host of Orange County Public School’s Needs List.

As a solution to the effects of budget cuts in education, MyGoLocker.com created the MySchoolWish program, available free of charge to all Orange County Public Schools. Through MySchoolWish, schools are able to create wish lists of tangible items to help support their student’s activities, classes and programs. MyGoLocker.com posts these lists in an easy to navigate format.

The community visits MyGoLocker.com to find schools and their wish lists. Wish lists include simple items such as batteries, paint trays, dictionaries, gift card incentives, pencils, clipboards, umbrellas, or copy paper. Other lists are for basic clothing needs: socks, shoes and belts. The community may also search wishes by categories so they may support a specific program affected by budget cuts: athletics, technology, field trips and the arts as a few examples.

Local Businesses demonstrate their commitment to the community.

School Spotlight: Orange Center Elementary

This is a letter from an Orange County School Principal recognizing a 2nd Grade Class from Windermere Preparatory School for their donation to their school.

Dear Ms. Pender,

Tell your students how much we will appreciate their donations. Most of children do not have socks. They are so thrilled when I can take them to our "clothes room" for socks, shoes, underwear, shirts, pants, belts, and often basic hygiene products.

Your students are helping some of the most impoverished children in the district. We are 99% Free and Reduced lunch. All of our children live in the housing projects across the streets. They love school. We have no attendance problem. If we open the gates at 6:30 they will start running to school and then they try to come back after school is over. It is a safe haven.

We have high expectations and they are rising to our expectations and strong teaching. This has been a great experience for me to know the depths of poverty right in the midst of Orlando. I have learned to be grateful for things I took for granted... pets, a back yard with grass, flowers, trees, a bed, and sheets.

These are all things we consider basic necessities that our children do not have. They sleep on mattresses on the floor, usually 3 to a bed with no sheets or covers, no dresser drawers, clothes just stacked on the floor. And they are always hungry.

We are all so blessed with our many material blessings. Let your students know they are helping and making a difference.

God Bless,

Ginny Kennerly, Ed.D.

Featured Business– Bella De Salon

Bella De Salon located in Dr. Phillips (SW Orange County) heard about MyGoLocker.com and what it was doing to help schools and businesses in our community.

Without hesitation, Salon Owner, Dana Foretti wanted to know what she could do to help give back. She immediately, decided to showcasing her business on the site and offer MyGoLocker visitors an exclusive Savings. But most importantly, she wanted to know how her business could help make a difference for a school. Enter, WestSide Technical School, a school that specializes in cosmetology programs offered to eleventh and twelfth grade students who attend Orange County High Schools and participate in a “Dual enrollment” Program.

This unique program educates approximately 80 high school students and prepares them to continue their education into the adult cosmetology program, where they will ultimately complete the program and take the Florida State Board of Cosmetology licensure examination.

Due to budget cuts, this programs needs to depend on the community to assist with funding a donations. When Bella De Salon learned of this program and their needs, they immediately reached out to the program director to Grant a SchoolWish and donated hair products to help the students.
